Title: Tiffany

Author: Lord Alward

I remember seeing Lady Tiffany at various places; the tavern night, sitting quietly , at the Kings meetings, and sometimes as I was getting seeds . The first time I met her was at my sons house, she was browsing through his vendors and talking with him. As time went along we talked a bit. We had some friends in common , Over time she most graciously helped me and my son in many ways she had a project she wanted to do and needed several stories written explaining origins of many of her characters. I agreed to write them for her and as we collaborated on them, we became fast friends.

Her memory will be a part of who I am, not just on the game but as I go thru life. There are few people who are that honest and friendly. I cherish the memory of her kindness and friendship. Lord Alward
